

Ethnologisches Kolloquium im Sommersemester 2018

Termin: Di 18.30 – 20.00, Iwalewahaushaus, Seminarraum, Wölfelstrasse 2

- organisiert von Katharina Schramm

Di 10.04.18 Auftakt Studiengänge – 18.30 Uhr

Di 17.04.18 Sandra Bärnreuther, Zürich, „Race as Risk? ‘Race’ and ‘Ethnicity’ in Medical Research and Clinical Practice in India.“

Di 24.04.18 Taylor Riley, Bayreuth, „Spiritual Paradigms and Same-Sexualities in KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa.“

Di 08.05.18 Omar Egesah, Eldoret, „Contributions made by Medical Anthropology Research to Reproductive Health in the Kenyan Context, Annotated Ethnographic Experiences.“

Di 15.05.18 Staffan Müller-Wille, Exeter, „Joining Data Across Cultures: Kinship Analysis and Statistics in Late Nineteenth-Century Anthropology.“

Di 22.05.18 Adnan Hossein, Amsterdam, „Neither a Suffering Subject nor a Celebrated Third Gender: Masculinity, Power and Pleasure in the Making of the Hijra in Bangladesh.“

Gemeinsames Ethnologisches und Geographisches Kolloquium:

Di 29.05.18 Richard Rottenburg, Halle, „Vom Sterben alter und der Geburt neuer Disziplinen.“

Di 05.06.18 Duane Jethro, Berlin, „Decolonising the Cityscape? Contested Street Renaming in Pretoria and Berlin.“

Di 12.06.18 Kristine Krause, Amsterdam, „Speaking from the Blind Spot: Political Subjectivity, Disability and Belonging.“

Di 19.06.18 Amade M'charek, Amsterdam, „Tentacular Faces and Generous Methods for Studying Race.“

Di 26.06.18 Sarah Blacker, Berlin, „Making Traditional Knowledge Matter: Environmental Contamination, Indigenous Health, and Oil Production in Canada.“

Di. 03.07.18 Präsentationen der Masterforschung „Social Movements in Africa“

Di 10.07.18 Semesteraussprache – 18:30 Uhr