The publications numbered 28, 30, 33 and 39 are the result of joint writing. In all these papers my contribution has been equal or greater than that of my colleagues – with the exception of publication no. 28, where I initiated the writing, but during the process, Julia Eckert provided slightly more input, that is why we decided to name her first. Publication no. 43 is a book manuscript which I currently prepare for publication preferably with a US university press publisher (Please do not circulate beyond the circle of referees for the position advertised).
